

SAVE THE DATE >

Sunday, August 5, 2007
Washington University 9 a.m. – 1 p.m.

AUG. 5,
2007

Individual organizational board meetings to follow after 1 p.m.

Jewish Education on the Front Burner

Lay Leadership Institute at CAJE 32

Learn from nationally known experts why Jewish education should be a priority in our community, and understand how congregational and day school boards can make it one.

$18 per person includes bagels, a box lunch and materials (Kashrut observed)

Plenaries led by Jonathan Woocher, Chief Ideas Officer, JESNA; and Ron Wolfson, Fingerhut Professor of Education at University of Judaism in Los Angeles and co-founder of Synagogue 3000. Breakout sessions will focus on topics of interest to congregational and day school boards. Attendees are invited to stay and enjoy the opening sessions of CAJE 32 - a national conference for Jewish educators and lay leaders - that afternoon and evening.

For more information, contact: Joan Wolchansky
314-442-3760 • jwolchansky@cajestl.org